PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	The topic of this manuscript relevant but not quite new to readers. It is not an original research article as the author has presented the secondary data and research methods not mentioned. The current applications, ideas, and hypotheses are adequately accounted for but there lacks recent works (data). The authors have interpreted and presented the relevant results correctly however, recent and critical references that are missing. Most of an article's references should be to primary research from the past 2–5 years. The figure no 4 could be better presented. Rest of the figures and tables are appropriately presented.
Minor REVISION comments	The author needs to correct some minor grammatical and punctuation error which were highlighted in the manuscript. Citations are needed in some places which were indicated in the manuscript. I kindly request the author to present a critical discussion, not just a descriptive summary of the topic.
Optional/General comments	This is a review article. So it should give an overview of current thinking on the theme. Start with an overview of the topic and give some context, explaining why a review of the topic is necessary. Some new conclusions can be presented by analyzing previous works.
