

Editor's Comment:

Please see the attached file for the some correction needed. The author has made correction on the text but the reference section is not written well following guidelines. I request the authors to follow the guidelines in the following link properly.

<http://www.journalair.com/index.php/AIR/general-guideline-for-authors>

Especially, Reference sources cited from the published paper of the journal, need to follow the unique style such as Hilly M, Adams ML, Nelson SC. A study of digit fusion in the mouse embryo. Clin Exp Allergy. 2002;32(4):489-98.

I have also indicated some comments to attached file. After these corrections, the article should be published finally,
