

Editor's Comment:

Research Title: Discussion on Biotechnology and Food Policy: Taking China's Genetically Modified Organisms (GMOs).

Editorial Decision: The best thing of the manuscript is that the theme is clear. But there are some inconsistencies in the arrangement. The manuscript is only acceptable after the following corrections.

Special attention:

1. Keywords should be highlighted words from the whole manuscript but different from the words in title. This is suggested not to include the words or terms used in the title as keywords.
2. Punctuations are not used appropriately. Need more attention on punctuations.
3. In-text references are not arranged properly and not followed similar format throughout the manuscript. Please provide special emphasis on in-text references.
4. An incomplete sentence [.....localized food production and (Grauerholz, L. Owens, N., 2015)] is found at the page no. 4. Please correct it.
5. The conclusion is the important part of a research paper. It should be well formed and attractive. The conclusion part is not well organized. Please rewrite it with a simple one paragraph containing gist information of the whole paper. You also may add a few recommendations at the end of the conclusion.
6. The list of references should be arranged with only a single format. It is discouraged to follow different types of formats. Please give more time on the in-text reference and list of references section.

Editor's Details:

Dr. G. N. Tanjina Hasnat

Lecturer, Faculty of Land Management and Administration, Patuakhali Science and Technology University, Bangladesh