

Editor's Comment:

First of all, I agree with the evaluators' observations. In other words, both evaluators have stated that this is an interesting topic and a great contribution to the subject. On the other hand, when seeing the new version presented by the authors, I find that some suggestions received have not been considered in the new version. At this point, I suggest that: To be accepted this manuscript, the remarks I write again in the file should be considered. In addition, I have found many errors in the writing of the Bibliographic References. I have taken the time to correct commas and periods, parentheses and capital letters. I suggest and ask, please, that the authors follow the editorial rules for the next time.

In conclusion, I consider that the work will be accepted for publication, when the authors respond to the comments that they did not consider.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Lucas Petigrosso

Professor, National University (FCA-UNMdP), Argentina