Compulsory REVISION comments	Study is timely, as it constitutes another reminder of the need for a balanced diet especially in this era of increasing cardio-vascular incidences. The beneficial role of fruits cannot be overemphasized, considering their high endowment with some nutritional (vitamins, minerals) and medicinally-important secondary metabolites (phytochemicals) such as enumerated by authors. Work is well done, though article remains demanding in the following highlighted areas: METHODOLOGY Phytochemicals: experimental procedures need to be clear; the various types of phytochemicals screened and the respective methods used. LANGUAGE: Several issues of grammar need to be fixed, with more focus on sentence structure and subject-verb agreement.
