Compulsory REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">-the language used is difficult to understand, it is recommended that the author do a proof read-there are many grammatical errors, especially in writing scientific names-abstract is not complete, the author should include the research data obtained-research gap is not described in the background-the research method is not detailed, the author should explain the research method in detail but concisely-the picture listed is not clear, the inhibition zone is not visible- there is no discussion at all, how are the references to previous research? does it strengthen the data obtained now? What are the phenomena and mechanisms that occur in the process of antibacterial activity? what is the active compound that causes antibacterial activity?
