Compulsory REVISION comments	The paper entitled " A study on instabilities and nonlinear wave energy exchange process in Terrestrial Ionosphere Plasma " (ID : Ms_PSIJ_67244) is a mini-reiew article . Its main aim is to explain theoretically the phenomena related to the ground- and satellite- based observations associated with nonlinear effects and plasma wave" instabilities . To this end , the article already presented the main ingredients of nonlinear weak turbulence wave- particle interaction theory in an understandable form . I highly appreciate this review article since all readers can be get great interest after studying it carefully . In this regard , I recommend that this mini-review will be accepted to be published .
