Compulsory REVISION comments	There was no mention of Trypanosoma suis or simiae which are very important species of Trypanosma which affects Domestic and wild porcine species just like the ones mentioned in the manuscript. Any explanations for this obvious exclusion?
Minor REVISION comments	The Introduction section should be rewritten, to follow a sequence and the discussion section should not have subsections and I believe a better work could be done on this section to properly discuss this very good manuscript with works done elsewhere in the continent and globe.
Optional/General comments	Accept with this pointed gray areas sorted and corrected.
